

EDWARD VII. HAILED KING

Ancient Ceremony of Proclamation in London Today.

"GOD SAVE THE KING."

Funeral of Dead Queen to Be Held February 2, with Military Honors.

ROYAL FAMILY AT OSBORNE

London, Jan. 24.—The ceremony of proclaiming Edward VII King of Great Britain and Emperor of India was celebrated today with all of the picturesque of the ancient custom. The proclamation was first read in the court yard at St. James palace at nine o'clock in the presence of an immense but orderly crowd. The king took no part in the proceedings. The Duke of Norfolk read the proclamation. At the conclusion the college of heralds all clad in medieval trappings proceeded to Charing Cross and thence to Temple Bar, where the Lord Mayor with the aldermen and citizens pledged allegiance after the reading.

Trumpeters Blew a Blast. The trumpeters blew an acclaiming blast and the people cried, "God Save the King," and cheered. From the Mansion house the people then proceeded to Charing Cross where the proclamation was again read. Then for the last time the king was proclaimed from the steps of the royal exchange to an enormous crowd.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the people cheered eight times and with one accord sang, "God Save the King." King Edward left London for Osborne at 11:30 accompanied by the members of the royal family.

Funeral on Feb. 2. East Cowes, Jan. 24.—Sir Arthur Ligges, the private secretary of the late queen is authority for the statement that the body will be removed to Windsor, Feb. 1, and the funeral held Feb. 2.

Private Funeral at Osborne. East Cowes, Jan. 24.—King Edward and the royal party arrived here at two fifteen o'clock. A great crowd was at the pier and the people greeted the new monarch vociferously. All the war ships, yachts and other vessels were dressed in bunting and the blue jackets manned the navy yards. The king's royal standard was hoisted on the landing.

Emperor William did not appear on the pier but deferred his greeting until Edward reached the palace. The private funeral service was attended only by members of the royal family. It was held this afternoon in the dining room at Osborne which was transformed into a chapel.

Proclamation by Edward VII. An extraordinary issue of the Gazette this morning announcing the death of Queen Victoria.

Then follows the proclamation of Edward VII., the acknowledgment of allegiance by the privy council, and the king's speech at his accession. After giving the list of those who attended the council, The Gazette announces that he king subscribed the oath relating to the security of the church of Scotland.

It concludes with the king's formal proclamation ordering all officers and persons in authority to exercise their offices during the royal pleasure, and exhorting his subjects to aid and assist such officers in the performance and execution of their duties.

Mourning Is Ordered. The Gazette orders the court to go into mourning until July 24, and into half mourning until Jan. 24, 1902. Lord Roberts has ordered the army to adopt mourning until March 5.

Memorial services will be held in St. Paul's cathedral, morning and evening daily until the interment.

Kaiser Awaits the Funeral. The departure of Emperor William depends on the date of the funeral. Everything is unsettled. Ten days or a fortnight may elapse before the burial.

The medical report is not complete. It is expected today.

All England will participate in the funeral of the queen. From the time that the sad ceremonies begin at Osborne house until the body is buried at Frogmore there will be funeral and memorial services throughout the English-speaking world.

Will Be a Simple Ceremony. There has been no burial of a sovereign in England for nearly sixty-four years. Since the obsequies of William IV the world has moved forward so far that even the funeral of an English monarch will be utterly unlike that of any that has gone before. It is believed that a simple ceremony will take place in Osborne house and that the body of the queen will be placed on board the royal yacht and conveyed to Portsmouth.

A funeral train will take the royal dead and the mourning family to London. At the stations along the route the crape-covered train will be met by the mourning people with bared heads. It will arrive at Victoria station.

QUEEN'S FACE CALM IN DEATH. Funeral Plans Yet Undecided Except that It Will Be Military. East Cowes, Jan. 24.—The queen's family and her personal faithful servants still guard her lifeless body as their most precious earthly possession. No stranger has today gazed on the aged form from whose face, eternally has wiped the lines of time and care and sickness.

Those outside of her household and employment have not yet been permitted to enter the chamber of death, but from an officer of the royal yacht Alberta was gathered something of the spectacle which has bound all who witnessed it in a mutual feeling of reverence.

He says that the body lies in the same bed in which she died, her face turned slightly toward the right, in the direction of the windows opening on the waves of the Solent. The face under a thin veil, is unforgettably white and statue like. It has become a face telling nothing of age or suffering. The body is attired in black. The face is perfectly peaceful and the remains have been placed with the arms folded. On the breast rests a beautiful gold cross. All about repose quantities of beautiful flowers.

Funeral Plans Undecided. Meanwhile the future rests with the king, who is sure to consider the wishes of his sisters and brothers, and not the least, his nephew, Emperor William. It would be of no service to repeat all of the rumors regarding events between now and the final placing of the remains beside the tomb of the Prince Consort at Windsor. Without bowing to the pride of heraldry and the pomp of power it may be said that the family hopes that the funeral ceremonies will be in keeping with the majesty and dignity of the queen's reign. It probably will be found to be a memorable occasion.

Will Be a Military Funeral. The fleet which the queen reviewed from Osborne as it steamed past Spithead will be reassembled in two lines from here to Portsmouth. Between these squadrons a warship will bear the coffin. It will take time to arrange this as well as the other ceremonies. Meanwhile Osborne is more suitable as a temporary resting place than the nearer great world where the final scene will be enacted.

There will be no lying in state here. The ceremonies at Osborne house will be only for the family, the servants and the tenantry.

The body probably will be taken to the mainland by the end of the week. The funeral, which will be a military one, with the body on a gun carriage will almost certainly be held at Windsor perhaps a fortnight or three weeks hence.

FACE DISFIGURED BY GIRL HAZERS

Young Women Students at Wichita, Kas., High School, Burn Greek Letters on Her Forehead.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 24.—Three scars on the forehead of Miss Pauline Lewelling, the second oldest daughter of the late Governor Lewelling of Kansas, bear witness to a hazing by girls of the Wichita high school, the facts of which are just coming to light. Just when the episode occurred and the perpetrators are secrets closely guarded by the parties concerned, but the condition of Miss Lewelling's wounds clearly indicate that they must have been inflicted within the last day or two.

The matter became public through Miss Lewelling's appearing on the street with her head bandaged. The scars resemble the Greek characters Alpha, Theta, Mu, and were inflicted with nitrate of silver.

Miss Lewelling is the teacher of the class of girls who are accused of the deed. It has been learned that the wounds were inflicted after school hours and that the teacher consented to have herself blindfolded, under a pretense of being initiated into a society. She was led into one of the school rooms where the operation was performed.

The scars are about one inch in size and are a serious disfigurement. The young woman is under the care of a physician. When seen today she refused to discuss the affair.

FACTORY BURNED AT RIPON.

Plant of Underwear Company Valued at $15,000 Destroyed. Ripon, Wis., Jan. 24.—Fire destroyed the plant of the Ripon Underwear company late last night, causing a loss estimated at $15,000, fully covered by insurance. The blaze broke out shortly after 11 o'clock, and the building which is formerly an old church, was soon in ruins.

MRS. NATION AND HER LITTLE AXE

Deliberately Wrecks Interior of Another Saloon in Kansas Town.

HAS MORE RUIN IN VIEW

She is Going to Abeline Today and the Points Are Being Fortified.

SCOUTS OUT TO MEET HER

Abilene, Kas., Jan. 2.—The first real thorough job of "joint" smashing done by Mrs. Carrie Nation of Wichita was that yesterday afternoon at Enterprise, a town of 800 six miles east of here. She arrived on the early train accompanied by two women heavily veiled, and went at once to the home of Mrs. C. B. Hoffman, wife of a prominent populist leader and a wealthy miller.

"I'm here to clean out this town of joints," she said, and sent out invitations to the temperance women for a meeting at two o'clock. A considerable number came and she outlined her plan of work. Then she brought out the hatchet which she had used in Wichita, and with Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. L. A. Case, president of the W. C. T. U. she went down town in a carriage.

Broke All the Mirrors and Bottles. In front of the leading "joint" she alighted and tried to open the door. It was locked, so she smashed the glass and frames and stepped inside. The place was empty. Her companions waited outside, and with the gathering crowd watched the operations, no one seemingly caring to interfere with her work.

She broke all the bottles, mirrors, fixtures and pictures, and made dents in the bar and woodwork. John Shilling, the proprietor had fled, so she had full sway. Breaking into the refrigerator, she took out the beer cases and broke all the bottles and devastated everything breakable inside the room.

Roasted the Marshall.

After giving the marshall a blistering tongue lashing she then started for the adjoining "joint." A large crowd had gathered but no one interfered. The other joint was closed and hastily boarded up and the marshall stood between her and the door. She finally gave up the attempt and after giving the marshall a blistering tongue lashing went back to Mrs. Hoffman's where she is this morning. She says that she will complete the job today and then move on to other towns where she is needed. It is expected that she will attack the six "joints" of the county seat.

Preparing for Her Arrival. The news that Mrs. Nation was within six miles caused a state of panic at the Abilene dispensaries, and all sorts of plans were discussed for handling her if she comes here. One of the joints has prepared a heavy oak barricade to fit the stairway and expects to slide it into place when the scouts announce the approach of Mrs. Nation. There is no doubt that she will be here this afternoon.

IS HEIR TO $3,000,000

Great Fortune Comes to an Obscure German Farmer Working Near Ashland, Wis.

Ashland, Wis., Jan. 23.—Stephanus Theopoldus von Kruczkowski, an obscure character who has sustained himself for the past twelve years by tilling a forty acre farm near High Bridge, has been notified from authoritative sources that he has been made heir to property worth nearly $3,000,000. Owing to the difficulty in pronouncing his name Mr. Kruczkowski was several years ago named Steamboat. Since March 20 last Steamboat has superintended the poor farm of Ashland county. He said: "The bulk of my heritage comes from Italy. Garibaldi, the Italian patriot, who acquired a grand reputation through his expressions of love for his country, was a brother of my grandmother. Garibaldi was rated at $16,000,000, most of that amount being tied up in the island of Capri just off the west coast of Italy. The property was confiscated by the Italian government and a litigation commenced for the heirs for its recovery. After pending ten years the heirs have finally won out and the government has issued to them $16,000,000 in government bonds. My share of that amount is $2,647,000. My passports have been sent for and I will depart for Germany on Feb. 2."

R. B. Kirkland, one of the leading attorneys of Jefferson county, was in the city yesterday.

CIGARETTE BILL IS PASSED TODAY

The Strong Anti Law Goes Through Assembly with a Whoop.

PASS SWAMP LAND ACT

Memorial to Congress for the Election of U. S. Senators by a Direct Vote.

REDUCE MILEAGE OF SHERIFF

Madison, Wis., Jan. 24.—The Overbeck anti-cigarette bill passed the assembly this morning under suspension of the rules by a viva voce vote with only a few scattering nays.

In the senate the memorial to congress urging the passage of the Spooner swamp land and indemnity act was passed with four dissenting votes from northern members.

A memorial to congress for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people was introduced in the assembly by Cox of Fond du Lac.

Norton of Milwaukee introduced a bill to reduce the sheriff's mileage from ten to five cents.

In the senate Greene of Milwaukee introduced a bill to prevent combinations of fire insurance companies or their agents to regulate rates and commissions.

Abolish Railroad Commissioner.

The most important bill of this session was introduced in the assembly this morning by A. R. Hall of anti-pass fame. It abolishes the office of railroad commissioner and puts the supervision of railway matters into the hands of three non-partisan commissioners to be appointed by the governor for six year terms at a salary of $3,000 annually.

The appropriation for salaries, clerk hire and expenses is limited to $20,000 a year. It is provided that the present railroad commissioner shall be a member of the commission until the expiration of his term for which he was elected. One member of the commission shall be an expert in railroad matters.

Mystery Surrounds the Bill.

Madison, Jan. 24.—The legislature is still anxiously awaiting the appearance of the primary election law about which so much has been said and so little is known. The mystery which surrounds the bill is impenetrable. It is something almost unheard of. Even those who are the closest to the administration know nothing about its provisions, or if they do know, will not divulge the slightest information. Those who are preparing the bill are silent as the grave on the subject. Just why there should be so much mystery about the bill is itself something of a mystery.

The failure of the bill to appear has given rise to all sorts of comment. The general opinion is that it has been found much more difficult to draw the bill than it was supposed it would be. It is said that the framers are very much at sea over some of the provisions. Mr. Stevens says that he does not know exactly when the bill will be ready.

Dr. Lyman Will Resign.

One of the reforms which Gov. Scofield inaugurated was the removal of the state penal and charitable institutions from politics as far as possible, and the result has been so beneficial that no future administration will be apt to go back to the old system, where a superintendent has almost no control over his employees because of the political power back of them. For that reason it is not expected that there will be many changes now.

It is rumored, however, that there will be one change in a superintendent, due to a resignation. It will be at the Mendota hospital, of which Dr. W. B. Lyman is superintendent. The doctor has been anxious to return to general practice and has been on the point of resigning several times but was prevailed upon to stay. He is determined, now, to retire, it is said, and will return to Eau Claire, where he formerly resided. The position is worth $2,500 a year, with a living provided. When it becomes known that there is to be a vacancy, there will probably be a scramble for the place, but report has it that Dr. W. W. Gill, of Madison, will have the first show for the place.

Has No Military Staff.

Governor La Follette is acting as commander-in-chief of the Wisconsin National Guard without a military staff, but that in no wise interferes with the discharge of his duties. Some time ago, when Gov. Scofield's term was about to expire, all the aides-de-camp on the governor's staff resigned. While Gov. La Follette has appointed his military secretary, Jerre C. Murphy, he has not yet considered the question of a staff of five aides and will not for some time to come. In the meantime the adjutant general's office is under the old regime with Gen. Boardman at the head of the office.

Gen. Boardman is preparing a military bill along the lines of his recommendations in his last report.

TO MEET AT PLATTEVILLE.

Plans for the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' Association. Whitewater, Wis., Jan. 24.—The Southern Wisconsin Teachers' Association will hold its annual meeting at Platteville on April 5 and 6. The meeting of last year was held at Racine, at which time nearly 1,000 teachers attended. A strong program is being prepared and great interest is being awakened in the southern part of the state in this meeting. Supt. Buell of Whitewater, the president of the association, is in Platteville making arrangements with the local committees to provide entertainment for the large number of teachers expected.

FEDERAL TROOPS SENT TO MUSKOGEE

Warlike Preparations of the Creek Indians Continue—Their Numbers Are Increasing.

Muskogee, I. T., Jan. 24.—The warlike preparations of the disaffected Creek Indians continue unabated, and United States troops are on the way to check the uprising. Two of the light horsemen of the band were arrested by Deputy Marshals and brought here tonight. They declare that they will be avenged.

A runner from the scene of the uprising, who reached Checotah today, says the members of the band are increasing in numbers, and the Five Tribes were well represented, there being numbers of Choctaw, Chickasaw, Cherokee and Seminole tribes with the Creek band.

Three more Indians were whipped yesterday and those full bloods who attempt to leave their homes and not take part in the uprising are regarded as traitors to the Snake band and are forced to return.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 24.—General Fitzgugh Lee, commanding the department of the Missouri last evening sent telegraphic orders to First Lieutenant Dixon, commanding Troop A of the Eight cavalry at Fort Reno, O. T., to proceed at once to the scene of the Indian trouble at Muskogee, I. T.

POULTRYMEN MEET NEXT AT DELAVAN

Officers Elected at Annual Meeting of Southeastern Wisconsin Poultry Association.

Burlington, Wis., Jan. 24.—At the annual meeting of the Southeastern Wisconsin Poultry association yesterday it was decided to hold the annual meeting next year at Delavan. The following officers were elected: President, Edward W. Brink, Delavan; first vice president for Racine county, Herman Halbach, Waterford; vice president for Kenosha county, J. R. Brabazon, Sr., Delavan; corresponding secretary, E. J. Scott, Delavan; treasurer, Seth Gregory, Delavan.

RUBBED THE GERMS ON HIS OWN BODY

Appleton Physician Exposes Himself and Family and Friends to the Small Pox.

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 24.—Dr. M. J. Rodermund, a well-known physician of this city is the author of a book entitled "The Murderous Fads in the Practice of Medicine," has gotten himself into no end of trouble by attempting to verify one of the questionable statements he has advanced, that smallpox is not contagious.

When it became known that a case of smallpox existed in Appleton the doctor visited the home where the patient was confined during the absence of the attending physician. After making every effort to become inoculated with the disease germs, he hurried to his home and then to the club without disinfecting his person or clothing, and thus exposing his entire family and a number of business men of the city to the disease.

When the story leaked indignation ran high and all sorts of threats were made, and even talk of bodily injury. An attempt will be made to quarantine the doctor in his own residence.

NEARING THE CENTURY MARK.

Mrs. M. A. Hunt of Beloit, Wis., Celebrates 99th Birthday.

Beloit, Wis., Jan. 24.—Mrs. Mary A. Hunt of this city, the mother of D. H. Hunt and H. D. Hunt of Chicago, yesterday celebrated her ninety-ninth birthday. She is in very good health and in perfect possession of all of her faculties. She maintains a regular correspondence and is a great reader of public events and the latest literature.

GREAT FIRE IN MONTREAL

Some of the Finest Buildings in the City Destroyed.

LOSS OVER $3,000,000

Beautiful Board of Trade and Dozens of Wholesale Houses Burned.

LIST OF THE LARGE LOSSES

Montreal, Jan. 24.—One of the most destructive fires from which this city has ever suffered began at 8 p. m. and notwithstanding the efforts of the entire fire department the progress of the flames was not checked until 1 a. m. By that time it had destroyed property valued at between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 and was still burning, though the firemen a little later got it under control. Included in the property burned is the splendid board of trade building, which cost over $500,000, with over 100 tenants and half a dozen large firms and two scores of smaller concerns. The weather was cold and the firemen were greatly hampered in this respect.

Police Struggle with Crowds.

Outside of the board of trade building there was not a modern structure among those burned. The narrow streets, antiquated buildings and the inflammable nature of the stocks they contained made a combination which the department was powerless to overcome. The fire practically burned until it came to an open space, which gave the firemen an opportunity for effective work. For a time it looked as if the flames would spread along Commissioners street to the Grand office building in course of erection there. Numerous crowds of people jammed the narrow streets, and the police could not control them. Women fainted and their clothes were torn and a few slightly injured in rushes for safety.

Explosion Breaks Down Walls.

The fire started at 8:10 in the clothing house of M. Saxe & Sons, St. Peter street, and even before the firemen had got to work the flames had spread to the Nelson fireworks building, with the result that scores of explosions followed, and in ten minutes the eastern wall fell into the west side of the Board of Trade building. The fire was thus carried through many windows, and though the building was supposed to be fireproof, it was a seething mass of flame within an hour. To the south the fire spread to St. Paul street, and the brigade was beaten back inch by inch until it seemed that the entire business portion of Montreal must go. A strong west wind blew for some time, and this meant that the famous Notre Dame church might go at any moment, but thanks to a sudden change, St. Francois Xavier street buildings were saved and the church untouched. The Montreal Board of Trade building was occupied chiefly by well-known wholesale firms, and while large stocks of goods were not carried in the building sample rooms innumerable have been sacrificed. The building was also occupied by upward of a score of firms in the wholesale grain trade as well as a half-dozen shipping firms. The offices of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal were also in the Board of Trade building, as was the Montreal office of the Hudson Bay company.

Estimates of Losses.

The following are estimates of the principal losses: Board of Trade, $600,000; insurance, $400,000. Tenants, $1,000,000; M. Saxe & Co., $75,000; Beardmore & Co., $150,000; Silverman, Boulter & Co., $125,000; Coristine & Co., $30,000; C. Seybold, Sons & Co., $30,000; Redmond, Greenless & Co., $50,000; H. Levi, $30,000; C. A. Choullau & Co., $25,000; B. Levin & Co., $50,000; Gilmore Bros. & Co., $50,000; Laporte, Martin & Co., $50,000; J. Cohen & Co., $40,000.

NO LEASE OF THE MILWAUKEE ROAD

Chairman Roswell Miller Declares That the Story is Only a Stock-Jobbing Yarn.

New York, Jan. 24.—It having been reported that a lease of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad to the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies would be executed at a special meeting of the St. Paul's directors, Chairman Roswell Miller of the St. Paul board was asked for the facts. He said:

"It looks to me like a jobbing yarn. It comes from a suspicious center. You may say that no special meeting of the board has been called."

ELECTRIC ROAD PLANS

Beloit Stands in the Way—That Right of Way Secured Means Building of Road.

Capitalists from Eau Claire and Onio respectively asked for urban and interurban franchises for an electric trolley line from the Beloit council, Tuesday evening.

The council did not take any action upon the applications which were made formally. They listened to brief propositions made orally by their attorneys and then ordered the franchises printed at the expense of the applicants in order that the two propositions might be digested by the people before they are acted upon by the council.

The people of Beloit are divided upon their ideas as to what they wish in a way of a trolley.

Some want no line at all, some want a strictly local line. Many want roads in town and out and the balance want an interurban line and nothing else. This gives the council grave propositions to wrestle with.

T. F. Frawley of Eau Claire represents the corporation that asks for a city franchise and H. H. Clough of Ohio, the one that asks for a franchise to construct a track through the city for an interurban road. Mr. Clough told the council he desired a franchise—not an exclusive one—to build an electric line through certain streets; that work would begin at once; that a power house would be built in Beloit or South Beloit and that a bond would be given calling for the construction of a line to Delavan Lake before the expiration of three years. Lines would also be constructed to Rockford and Janesville.

If this project goes through and Beloit will grant the interurban franchise there is little doubt but that the electric road between this city and Rockford will be commenced as soon as the frost is out of the ground. The route is all surveyed and parties are ready to go on with the work of building the line.

Beloit has been the main draw back to the construction of this road on account of the incorporators not being able to secure a right of way through the city. This once secured the work will be started at once and soon trolley parties to Beloit or Rockford will be a common thing.

An Old Photograph.

J. P. Baker has an old photograph, given him by E. H. Davies, showing the corner where his drug store is now located. The photograph was taken in 1869, shortly after the corner was destroyed by fire. The corner, at the time of the fire, was occupied by the Philadelphia drug store, owned by C. B. Caldwell & Sons. At that time the building was a two-story brick affair, with a peaked roof. On the west side of it was a small one-story addition, used for a fruit and confectionery store. Dr. Coryell and Mike Lynch, the surveyor, had rooms in the upper story. C. B. Caldwell, Paul Strong his clerk, and Frank Dutton are shown standing in the doorway.

The fire which destroyed the block was of mysterious origin and was believed to have been the work of parties interested in getting the insurance. Caldwell carried $10,000 insurance on his stock at that time, but never filed a proof of loss and never received any insurance.

The fire destroyed a livery stable in the rear of the store and also two stores on the east, belonging to the Davies Bros. More damage was done to adjoining property than to the store where the fire started.

Wisconsin Spiritualists.

The Wisconsin State Spiritualist Association will hold a series of meetings at Madison, Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, and Wednesday afternoon and evening, Feb. 6, in the Unitarian church. Many spiritualists from the southern part of the state have already signified their intention of being present.

Rev. Moses Hull, pastor of the First Spiritual church of Buffalo, N. Y., and the state president, Mrs. C. L. Stewart, will be the principal speakers and Mr. Max Hoffman, of Chicago, will give communications and messages purporting to come from persons who have "shuffled off this mortal coil." Mr. Hoffman's work will close each session.

Century Heart Club.

Mrs. Budd C. Dunwiddie entertained the Century Heart Club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. N. Dunwiddie, 256 West Bluff street. The game of hearts furnished the principal amusement. Mrs. W. T. Dooley did not lose a game during the afternoon, and was awarded first prize. Mrs. F. C. Roesling won the second, and Mrs. M. M. Farley the booby. The guests were treated to a number of choice selections by Mrs. F. C. Roesling and Mrs. James Connors, which were highly enjoyed. A sumptuous luncheon was also served, and added much to the enjoyment of the guests.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Seventeen years before the public, presented over ten thousand times, witnessed by millions of people and still one of the strongest and most popular drawing attractions in the world! That is Lewis Morrison's production of "Faust." Everything in connection with the attraction has always been up to such a high standard that its lasting qualities are unexcelled. ## MRS. FLAIR IN "CARMEN."

tention has been paid to the brushing up of the details with numerous innovations in the scenic, electrical and other effects all of which have brought about a practically new and complete production. It will be seen at the Myers Grand tonight.

A beautiful and gifted star, an intelligent supporting company of players, superb and costly costumes, new scenic effects and elaborate stage settings with a great play of standard merit. This is the story of Miss Eugenie Blair's coming engagement in this city tersely told. Her play will be Carmen of which she presents a new and original version which is said to be far more realistic and artistic than any of the former translations and adaptations. Miss Blair will open at the Grand tomorrow night.

Thomas Jefferson has appeared as a star for the past three seasons in Rip Van Winkle and will be here on Monday, Jan. 28, at the Myers Grand, as Rip, the play that has made the name of Jefferson a household word throughout the universe. The engagement is for one night only, a fact that should not be forgotten.

SHIP HOUSEHOLD GOODS NEXT WEEK

The Family of Rev. A. G. Wilson Leave Next Thursday for Rhinelander.

The home of Rev. A. G. Wilson is torn up preparatory to the removal of the family to Rhinelander, where Mr. Wilson is located as pastor of the Congregational church. The household goods will be shipped next Wednesday.

Mr. Wilson's contract with the society dates from Jan. 1, which he claims is a very good way to open up the century. The church is a handsome gothic building with a capacity of 400. The average congregation is 150, with a flourishing and progressive Sunday school of about the same size. The people are very liberal in thought and in close sympathy with their pastor.

Rhinelander is a picturesque city in the heart of the lumber district. The surrounding country is dotted with lakes, well stocked with fish. It is an ideal location for the sportsman who does not look for extra big game. It is an attractive spot in summer for people seeking rest and recuperation, and summer hotels are within easy reach in all directions.

The cost of living is a little in advance of this part of the state, but money is plenty, and people spend it with a liberal hand. The winter is rather long, that is counting from both ends the inclement season lingers in lap of spring some three weeks longer than in the southern tier of counties. The many Janesville friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson wish them abundant success in their new home.

BUTTER MEN ARE MAKING A HOWL

Charge Unfair and Unreasonable Methods Against the Butter Committee at Elgin.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 24.—The commission men of Milwaukee are raising a great howl against what they term unfair and unreasonable methods of the butter committee at Elgin, and there promises to be a general breaking away from Elgin contracts in the near future. It is alleged that the committee at Elgin have been making prices for the direct benefit of a few men; that the western markets have not been taken into consideration in the least in fixing the market.

The market here has been under Elgin from one to two cents right along, but there are many merchants here who are obliged to pay the Elgin prices to their shippers, having contracted before hand to take the butter at the Elgin market price. On Monday the Elgin market was reported firm at 22 cents, still there was not a pound of butter offered nor a bid made on the board.

At the same time choice extra creamery was offered freely on the local board for 20 cents. Three merchants here announced today that they had broken away entirely from Elgin contracts and will sell in the future only on commission, according to the local market. There are a number of others who will follow suit as soon as their present contracts run out, although some of them have notified their shippers that they will take no more butter at Elgin prices, contract or no contract.

The chances are favorable for a general fight against the Elgin board, both in Milwaukee and Chicago. A number of shippers in this state have notified two big commission firms here that they will ship their goods in the future according to the Milwaukee market, although they had contracts for Elgin prices in their possession. They realized, however, that their sales were very small, the local men making no effort whatever to sell at a loss.

FULTON.

Fulton, Jan. 24.—Mr. John Thompson is under the doctor's care. He is threatened with pneumonia.

W. E. Lee left for Milwaukee Monday where he has accepted a position as traveling salesman for Wadham's Oil & Grease Co. His many friends wish him success.

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia.

It makes life miserable.

Its sufferers eat not because they WANT to—but simply because they MUST.

They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, a feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn and what not.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured Joseph F. Laine, Flanagan, Ky., who writes: "I was troubled with dyspepsia for a number of years and took medicine that did me no good. I was advised by friends to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did and it put my bowels in perfect condition, gave me strength and energy and made me feel like a new person."

CROWNING OF KING EDWARD VII SOME OF THE SCENES AND INCIDENTS

London, Jan. 24.—King Edward in his speech to the privy council said he had decided to assume the title of King Edward VII. In accordance with the wish of his beloved mother, who, his majesty added, united the virtues of a supreme domestic guide with the affection and patriotism of a wide, peace-loving monarch. He had a respectful desire to leave the memory of his father's name, Albert, the exclusive treasure of his beloved mother. Notwithstanding his personal desire, he could not hope to do justice to the renown and virtues associated with Prince Albert's name, but he would do his utmost to be worthy of his great position.

TOLD OF THE NEW KING.

King Edward VII. Takes Throne at Time Fortunate to Him.

King Edward VII. ascends England's throne with the knowledge that his reign must be a brief one. He is nearly 60 years old, and even if he should live the allotted span of three score and ten, which in his present state of health is doubtful, he would have only little time in which to impress his rule on the empire's history. It is reasonably certain that within the next decade England will have another monarch—another King George—for the new Prince of Wales, known as the Duke of York until the queen's death, will be proclaimed as King George V. He is now 36 years old.

But it is regarded by many Englishmen a fortunate circumstance, both for England and the new king, that he did not have to assume the responsibilities of state in his youthful days, when his character was marked chiefly by indiscretion and indifference. For instance, if the queen-mother had died immediately after the Tranby Croft baccarat scandal or after some of the similarly discreditable episodes in the Prince of Wales' earlier career, there might have been serious trouble. In those days Albert Edward was not popular enough with his people to have been a successful occupant of a throne.

Of late, however, the name of Albert Edward has commanded more respect among the English, and they have ceased to speak of him so flippantly as was their former wont.

One of the incidents which gave England an idea of the strength of the future king was the attempted assassination of him in Brussels last April by Solpido, the youthful anarchist. On that occasion the prince looked calmly into the muzzle of the revolver that threatened to end his life and showed not a tremor of fear. He was absolutely unmoved and when his assailant was arrested he asked the officers to deal gently with the scatter-brained youth. The English people admire conduct of that sort.

Another incident of his indifference in time of danger occurred in the south of France not long ago. He was awakened one night and told to escape from an earthquake which was even then shaking the walls of the old chateau which sheltered him. But the prince refused to be frightened at what he called a trivial thing, and turning over went to sleep again.

WAR HASTENED QUEEN'S DEATH.

Aged Queen's Grief Over the Spilling of Blood Was Fatal.

There is no doubt that the South African war hastened the queen's death. The dearly bought victory of the British arms in the Transvaal, as well as the disasters, affected her cruelty, and toward the last she had come to feel that she was personally responsible for every drop of blood shed in the conflict with her Dutch colonies. After Lord Roberts' return from the war she summoned him to Osborne, and upon his telling her that months of fighting must intervene before peace could be hoped for she fell into a deep melancholy which foreshadowed her death.

This interview with Roberts was followed by one of the most pathetic incidents in Victoria's reign. Lord Salisbury was called to Osborne and the old queen, no longer imperious and regal, but broken-hearted and grief-stricken, pleaded with the aged premier to end the war at any cost and to allow her reign to close in peace.

Dismayed at her grief Salisbury hastened to London, called a cabinet meeting and told his colleagues of the situation. Then Secretary Chamberlain was sent to the queen to explain that peace was impossible unless it came with honor to the British government.

This visit of the colonial secretary is believed to have been the fatal stroke. Mental and physical collapse followed almost immediately, and she fell into a sinking condition from which she would awaken only to ask: "Is the war over?"

The queen's last years were darkened by other sorrows also. The illness of the Dowager Empress Frederick of Germany, the sudden death of her majesty's old friend Lady Churchill, together with the death of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, last summer, and of Prince Christian Victor subsequently weakened her and left her unable to bear later troubles.

COMPLICATED PROBLEMS.

Change of Rulers Affects Many Things in England.

London, Jan. 24.—It seems almost impossible to exhaust the list of persons and institutions not strictly official that are affected by the "demise of the crown," for such technically is the correct expression in speaking of the death of a British sovereign, it being, as already explained, under the theory of the English constitution a fiction that the king never dies. It will have a serious effect on the members of the queen's household, a majority of whom are personal officers, whose offices end with the death of the sovereign appointing them. King Edward will doubtless retain some of those long attending him while he was the Prince of Wales, and will give them steps in ranks. A more important fact is that the death of the queen opens the whole question of the royal revenues. For instance, in the time of George III. the crown lands were valued at £89,000 annually. He surrendered these lands to the public, receiving in exchange an annuity of £800,000. When the queen surrendered them similarly in 1837 they were worth £124,744, and she received in exchange an annuity of £385,000. The arrangement ends with her death. The lands are now worth £530,000 annually. Therefore, when parliament attends to the matter of making provision for the king it is likely that he will receive far more than the queen for the lands, or he may elect to retain them under his own management.

IRISH DO NOT EXPECT MUCH.

Opinion That Sovereign Will Side with Vested Interests.

New York, Jan. 24.—An officer of the Ancient Order of Hibernians said that although Irishmen seemed to show little feeling regarding the change of British sovereigns, the new king has shown himself, while Prince of Wales, to be a man of great tact and of personal attractiveness, and he made a good impression when touring through Ireland a few years ago. He continued: "King Edward, as prince, was all things to all men, but as king he is bound to take a definite stand for some things against others. Who can doubt, in view of his training, his antecedents and his position, that he will side, when he can, with the holders of vested interests, including incidentally the Irish landlords? Though Irishmen have certainly lost nothing, they have probably gained nothing by the change of rulers. The king of England is a mere cipher, as the late queen was, when it comes to using any real power. Victoria never used the veto power, nor will Edward VII. Under the queen's reign the population of Ireland decreased one-half. It was, in that light, a more disastrous rule than any other, not excepting Elizabeth's."

City Hall Flag Not Lowered.

New York, Jan. 24.—While many flags throughout the city were lowered to half mast out of respect for Queen Victoria's memory, that on the city hall was not. When asked why no official notice had been taken of her death, Mayor Van Wyck is reported to have replied: "I know that the flag has not been lowered. This city takes no notice of the death of foreign monarchs."

the frozen ground until he was unconscious. His condition is serious, and the police are making every effort to capture the highwaymen.

Agreement Affecting 10,000.

Sioux City, Iowa, Jan. 24.—Candy-makers of six states entered into an agreement here affecting more than 10,000 girls employed in a score of cities. The decision was not to introduce a chocolate-drop manufacturing machine which can do the work of forty girls. The makers all agreed to stick to the hand process. Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota are in the agreement.

Standard Oil Reaches Out.

Portland, Ind., Jan. 24.—The Standard Oil company is reported to have purchased the oil properties of the Cudahy and Manhattan Oil companies, which yield nearly 20,000 barrels monthly. The wells leases have been turned over. The deal is said to involve several hundred thousand dollars.

Six Men Badly Scalded.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 24.—While testing a filtering tank at Carnegie's 33d street mill a hot-water pipe burst and six men were terribly scalded. Engineer John Dickerson was thrown into another hot-water tank and will probably die. The others will recover.

TO CURE THE GRIP.

Advice of a Famous Physician.

First and foremost, rest. Take care of yourself. Your already weakened nerves want rest, and must have it. If the attack is severe go to bed and remain there. More fatalities result from neglect of this precaution than from any other cause.

Eat sparingly. Your digestive organs are in no condition to take care of the large quantities of food.

Drink plenty of pure cold water. It stays the fever, stimulates the kidneys to action and opens up the pores of the skin. Keep the bowels open with Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills. Take three doses of Dr. Miles' Nerve per day, and if you cannot sleep take an extra dose at bed time. To overcome the fever and to overcome the peculiar aches and pains of the grip, use Dr. Miles' Pain Pills. They act quickly and effectually, and no bad effects result from their use. These remedies have been thoroughly tested more than a million times, and their efficiency is thoroughly established. They never fail to give relief.

Dr. Miles' Remedies can be found at any drug store, and they are sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle or package benefits or money refunded.

For Grip aches use

Self-Knowledge and Self-Work.

We find this great precept often repeated in Plato: "Do thine own work and know thyself," of which two parts, both the one and the other generally comprehend our whole duty, and consequently do each of them complicate and involve the other; for he who will do his own work aright will find that his first lesson is to know himself; and he who rightly understands himself will never mistake another man's work for his own.—Montaigne.

Horse Races with Train.

German papers relate that Captain Baron Holzing recently covered a distance of fifteen kilometers (nine and a quarter miles) on horseback in twenty-five minutes. His horse had been especially trained for the ride, having been fed on a prepared food, instead of oats, for weeks. The ride was accomplished without extraordinary exertion, and the horse was fit for more work at the finish.

FREAK LEGISLATION.

This is the season of the year when freaks in official positions have an opportunity to air their fads and gain a little cheap notoriety. Every legislative body contains from one to a whole organization of these erratic law makers, the number depending on the character of the constituency behind them. As a result, numerous freak bills come to the surface, and in a conservative state like Wisconsin, they die still-born, simply making a laughing stock of the freaks who father them. There are other states, however, where freaks and fanatics are in the ascendancy, and these states are noted for freak legislation.

Kansas, Nebraska, the fair state of Iowa, as well as some others, have more or less trouble, with this class of representatives. Kansas has recently passed a bill requiring life insurance companies doing business in the state to deposit with the state treasurer an amount of money equal to the value of every policy. Enforced, that means driving every life insurance company out of the state. Kansas has driven so many good things out of the state by that kind of legislation that she will hardly miss life insurance.

Another bill attempts to bar from the state any publishing houses that belong to a wicked combine. That won't be so much of a loss, because books will be needed after Mr. Bryan gets his literary shop well under way.

The state of Arkansas, the other day, expressed sympathy for the Philippines through her gifted law makers. That's the kind of Americanism that ought to curse any state. There are a lot of sentimental people scattered over the country who see in Aguinaldo a second George Washington, that should be colonized in Arkansas. It would make a good asylum for them for several years to come. They would be out of harm's way, and would cease to annoy decent society by their everlasting croaking.

Indiana is struggling with the question of administering the death penalty to criminals. Whether they shall continue to use the rope or morphine. Some humane freak wants to place a premium on crime by saying to criminals, "Come over into Indiana and commit murder, and you can pay the penalty by being put to sleep when you don't know it." That might be pleasant for the criminal, but a little dangerous for the state. Another representative, who has evidently been in hard luck, wants the cities throughout the state to establish municipal pawn shops. That would be a little tough on the Hebrews. If a man is willing to handle brass jewelry and second-hand garments, he ought not to be annoyed by state competition.

Iowa is likely to break out any time on some lost anti-corruption legislation, and Nebraska will be heard from as soon as she gets through electing a couple of United States senators. It looks now as though that famous state would elect a couple of populists, but they will be harmless, and the state will be saved from her folly by a level-headed senate, where their presence will be neither felt nor missed.

Wisconsin has not yet developed any freak legislation. Corset Daggett is on the shelf and no one seems inclined to wear his shoes. The legislature will be all right if it attends strictly to business, and don't go wild over reforms.

The reform movement has been the stumbling block, as well as the cause of disaster in many states. It is usually the precursor of freak legislation. Wisconsin does not need reforming half as much as she needs encouraging. The state is not erratic or visionary. Conservative in make-up, and not flying very high, her people do not take very kindly to radical reform measures. They expressed an opinion a few years ago on the Bennett law that was not very consoling to the promoters.

The duty of a law maker is to study the wishes of his constituency, and then carry them out so far as he is able. He represents the people and does his best work when he sacrifices personal preference, and abandons freaks and fads of whatever nature, and intelligently works for the general good.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING.

The crowd of adventurers now waiting on the borders of Oklahoma for the signal to start in a mad rush for land, shortly to be thrown open to public entry, is a fair example of a very large class whose ambition never rises beyond a point of getting something for nothing. There's nothing any more seductive than a land offer. The Dakotas were covered with this class of enterprising citizens years ago. Men who didn't know any more about farming than they did about preaching. Possessed with the notion that they could settle down on a quarter section of raw prairie donated by the government, and live a life of ease and luxury. There are thousands of partially improved farms scattered over the newer western states today, after a lapse of twenty years, that can be bought for less than the improvements cost.

There has never been discovered but one successful way to get something for nothing, and that is to steal it. That is sometimes dangerous, and always disreputable, under whatever guise it may travel.

Government land seekers are not the only people who have an ambition to get something for nothing. The ranks of business and the professions are well represented with people who are trying to gain liberal rewards on limited investments. They reap a harvest of disappointment, and wonder at the result. Success in life is the result of investment and, as a rule, is in proportion to the amount invested. The young man who starts out with a shallow brain, and a half equipped mind, and uneducated hands, hoping to win fame, or anything else in the way of prizes, is doomed to disappointment. Resources to draw on are just as necessary in the intellectual, as in the financial world. The man with weak credit in business, is the man who is limited in resources, just as the man in the industrial world who is physically weak, finds himself stranded, when called upon for a heavy draft of physical endurance.

What is true in the industrial and business world, is equally true in the realm of thought and brain activity. Many men fall in this department because they are not large enough to fill the opportunities presented. The something could be secured if they possessed the equivalent. These people frequently wonder why others pass them in the race of life. The reason is very apparent. They are equipped for the race.

Adventurers are never safe leaders. If the Oklahoma crowd would stay at home and invest the same amount of energy and time in paying for something that they do in trying to secure a donation from Uncle Sam, they would be better off financially and every other way. It will be a long time before the Klondike country turns back as much gold as adventurers have invested, and this is equally true of Oklahoma.

THE DEPARTED QUEEN.

Death, however much anticipated, always comes as a great shock to the home, and so the death of Queen Victoria comes to the heart of the English people, not only as a shock, but as a great personal loss. She enjoyed, as no other woman living, the love of a nation, that had watched her development from girlhood through years of active life down to ripe old age, with ever increasing love and loyalty. To them she was more than a sovereign, because she possessed a large and sympathetic heart, so pure and strong in action, that royalty never caused it to beat out of harmony with humanity. She was great in many ways.

In insight and foresight, as well as executive ability, possessing conservatism and courage, she stood at the helm of the leading nation, and guided the ship of state, through seas both calm and troublous, with ever increasing skill. England has lost a great queen, and there has gone out from the midst of the lives of the people a life whose presence was a cherished benediction, and whose memory will linger with them as a priceless treasure.

The senate, with a margin of twenty votes, disregarding the rear of "militarism," raised the strength of our standing army to such a figure as to allow the boys at the front to return promptly when their term of service expires. The reasons which prompted the legislators to refuse to prohibit the sale of liquor in the Philippines, should have suggested the expediency of permitting the sale of liquors at the post exchange—an inconsistency, at least.

Whatever may be your opinion of the temperance cause, you may set down Jan. 18, 1901, as a most unfortunate date for real temperance in the United States.

The Bishop of Gloucester thinks the greatest evil of the coming century is, "self advertising vanity." We wonder if he means Bryan and his "Commoner."

Pres. Cleveland's verbosity smacked of "Encyclopedia Britannica." Ex-Pres. Cleveland's verbosity smacks of the "American Revisers."

Col. Roosevelt ought to have had one of those Colorado correspondents along with him when he took the trip up San Juan hill.

For more than three score years the name of Victoria has been synonymous with purity, virtue and exalted womanhood the world over.

The third house has its work cut out for it already. Two bills have been drawn for a reduction in railroad fares.

When things get quiet in other portions of the country, Kentucky can always be counted on to liven them up a little.

The islands of the sea are living rather rapid these days. The Philippines want independence before civilization; New Zealand is more progressive than England or America; and now comes the new Federation of Australia, with government ownership of railroads and woman suffrage.

If fourth year men could smuggle in a few Corbets and Jeffries, it would have a salutary effect in stopping the hazing.

The disaffected Creek Indians seem to be "West Pointing" their peaceful brothers.

GEN. J. P. C. SHANKS DEAD.

Veteran of Civil War Passes Away at Portland, Ind.

Portland, Ind., Jan. 24.—Gen. John P. C. Shanks died at his home in this city at midnight after a short illness. Death was caused by a complication of stomach and heart troubles. Gen. Shanks was born in Berkeley county, Virginia, June 17, 1826. In 1839 his parents moved to Indianapolis. He was a close student and progressed well considering his limited advantages. He taught school and was later admitted to the bar. He published the first newspaper in this county and was one of the first landholders. From the time of his election in congress he served ten years, taking his seat in 1860, and introduced many measures. He drew up the first manumission papers while in Gen. Fremont's command. President Lincoln made him a brevet brigadier-general at the first battle of Bull Run and at the request of Edwin M. Stanton, secretary of war, he was made a brevet major-general. He served as chairman of the committee on Indian affairs two terms of congress and was also a chairman of a committee to investigate Indian frauds.

IS FOUND DEAD IN A TOBACCO SHED

HENRY AUSTIN, OF LIMA FALLS, TAKES HIS OWN LIFE.

Had Recently Been Confined in Insane
Asylum But Was Believed Cured—
No Adequate Motive Can Be Assigned—Coroner's Inquest at Milton
This Forenoon.

Henry Austin, a farmer of the town of Lima, committed suicide yesterday afternoon, probably about two o'clock by hanging himself in the tobacco shed.

Thos. H. Edden of this city had occasion to visit Mr. Austin yesterday in connection with some business relating to the property of a younger brother of whom he is the guardian. Mr. Edden learned at his house that the person he sought was in the stripping room of the tobacco shed and looked for him there. He called to him but received no reply. Proceeding farther he saw the body hanging from the second bent of the shed. On examination the body was found to be cold and life extinct, although rigor mortis had not yet set in.

Deceased was about thirty-five years old and was the son of the late Thos. Austin, who owned a large farm near Johnstown Center. Mr. Austin had been the victim of a mental derangement and had been confined in a Madison asylum, but was believed to have regained his normal balance and was discharged supposedly cured. Old family friends had met him several times since his return and recall hearing him say he did not know what he was going to do next.

Yesterday he went about his work in an apparently cheerful frame of mind. The family, who occupy the house and with whom he made his home, noticed nothing that was out of the ordinary. He ate his dinner as usual and then read the paper for perhaps half an hour. From there he went to the tobacco shed and they never saw him alive again.

The rope with which he hanged himself he must have taken with him as he went from dinner as it was kept in the woodshed.

No adequate motive is assigned for the deed. He in common with his brothers and sister inherited from his father a comfortable property and there is nothing to indicate that financial troubles caused him to take his life.

He is survived by a widowed mother and seven brothers; Grant of Milton, Alfred and Frank of Lima, and Bert, Edward, George and Lester; also two sisters, Mrs. George Charleston of this city and Minnie who lives at the Johnstown homestead.

A coroner's inquest was held at Milton this forenoon. Arrangements for the funeral will be made later.

DEFEAT OF THE LOCAL BOWLERS

The match game at the Star Bowling alley last evening between a picked team from Janesville and a team from Beloit resulted in the defeat of the Janesville team. The home team lays its defeat to the fact that Captain Wells had a sore hand which interfered with his playing, his score last night being much below his usual score.

The line up of the teams and scores were as follows: Janesville, 640-741; Beloit, 720-753.

A return game will be played by the teams in the near future.

William Kath Injured.

William Kath, formerly of this city was among the injured in the railroad accident at Forest Junction near Fond du Lac Sunday. He was firing the engine that went through the bridge and was so seriously injured that his life was despaired of for two days. He is now improving slowly. Kath lived in this city up to a month ago when he moved to Fond du Lac. He is a cousin of Herman Bugge of this city.

George West Dying.

George West, the well known trotting horse driver is lying at the point of death at his residence, No. 6037 Drexel boulevard, Chicago. He has been unconscious since Monday, and is suffering from cancer of the liver and jaundice. George's many friends in this city will be pained to learn that his case is hopeless. He was a general favorite with all who knew him.

"Faust" and "Carmen."

Lewis Morrison's "Faust" an elaborate production of that well-known grand opera will appear at the Myers Grand tonight. It is said to be magnificently staged and the people composing the company are capable performers. Tomorrow night "Carmen" will be presented by another organization. These are opportunities that the music lovers of Janesville cannot afford to miss.

Municipal Court Notes.

Charles Hanson was before the municipal court this morning on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. Judge Fifield fined him five dollars and costs or ten days in jail. He went to jail.

Charles Walkley was before the court, charged with being a vagrant. He pleaded not guilty and his case was adjourned until Jan. 25, at 10 o'clock. In default of $100 bail he went to jail.

TO GET EVEN WITH RAILWAY COMPANY

JOHN JOHNSON, A SECTION MAN IS THE GUILTY PARTY.

He Placed the 500 Pound Rail on the Milwaukee Road Track Near Darlington for the Purpose of Revenge—He Was Discharged Last Fall—Confesses His Guilt.

Detective Robert Watson of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad was in the city today on his way to Darlington, Wis., to investigate the placing of a five hundred pound steel rail across the tracks of the company about two miles beyond Darlington on Monday night.

The spot at which the rail was placed is one that had the train struck it been wrecked, would have resulted in killing or maiming a great many of the employees and passengers.

The Mineral Point passenger in charge of engineer Thomas Fox, while running at a high rate of speed struck the rail which was placed across the track near the end of the bridge on a high fill. A heavy reinforcement in the center of the pilot of the engine struck the rail and threw it from the track. No damage was done other than breaking the pilot.

The officers at Darlington and the officers of the road at once took the matter in hand and after a careful search yesterday arrested John Johnson, a section hand that had worked for the company during the warm weather for the last four years, but was laid off this fall.

Johnson was taken before Justice Frank Higgins of Darlington and confessed that he placed the rail across the track for the purpose of wrecking the train. He gave no reasons for the act and is described as being a degenerate. He did not seem to realize what the results of his act might have been but wanted to get even with the railroad company for some fancied injury. He took the chance of killing a lot of innocent people employees of the road for the purpose of splitting it.

The punishment for acts of this kind is not more than ten years nor less than one in state prison. He should be given the limit.

Local employees of the road who are acquainted with Johnson say they cannot understand how he would come to do such a thing. While he is not bright he was a good worker and was employed by the company every year during the warm weather and was considered a good man. They think that he must have been under the influence of liquor and did not consider what his act might result in.

SUSPENDED IN MID AIR
Peculiar Experience of George Butler, an Employee of the Rock County Telephone Company.

George Butler, an employee of the Rock County Telephone company, was at work on the cable along the south side of the park this afternoon. He had a trolley with a swinging seat attached that he slid along the cable until he arrived at the place where he wished to make the repairs. He went along all right until about midway between the poles and here his trolley wheel jumped the wires to which the cable is strung and caught on the cable leaving him suspended in mid air unable to go backwards or forwards. He remained in this position for a long time until Geo. G. Sutherland came along and telephoned to headquarters for help. A rope was brought up by Superintendent Adams thrown over the wire and cable giving Butler a chance to raise his weight from the trolley seat and get the wheel back onto the wire. With the help of the rope he succeeded in getting back to where he started. The next time Butler undertakes a job of this kind he will carry a rope with him in case of accident.

BASKET BALL TONIGHT.
Game at Palace Rink Promises to Be Closely Contested.

This evening at the Palace rink a basket ball game will take place between two local teams. The game will be called at 8:30 o'clock. Skating will be allowed before and after the game. The Imperial band will furnish music.

The teams will line up as follows:
Rubes—W. Ryan, Art Ryan, Ross Bump, Frank Kent, Harry Atwood.
Whitings—W. Dougherty, Smith, Lou Mathews, Roy Palmer, Neil McVicar.

Thomas Leech Funeral.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

DESPICABLE COURSE OF PETTIGREW, OBSTRUCTIONIST.

Has Lost the Respect of Those Who Once Honored Him—Supported in 1890 a Principle He Now Schemes to Defeat.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota has developed into such an out and out obstructionist that few people remember the time that he occupied a position of influence and power among his colleagues in the United States senate. With the change in sentiment there has come a complete transformation in the man, and all of those previously concealed idiosyncrasies of character which have made him so obnoxious to both sides of the senate chamber because of the virulence of his language have been revealed. He is consuming the closing days of a most ignominious career in the United States as a leader of a clique of obstructionists which may go down in history yet as having compelled the "most deliberative legislative body on earth" to place a limit upon debate.

On the army reorganization bill, before the final vote was taken, and which so signally sustained the administration and carried into effect the will of the people as expressed at the polls last November, Senator Pettigrew easily took first rank as the most bitter of the radical filibusters. He has permitted himself to be interviewed repeatedly in order to assure the public that his opposition is largely directed against the shipping bill, to defeat which he was quite willing to oppose all other measures, however pressing, that preceded it. Senator Pettigrew has freely indulged in statements impugning the motives of the friends of the shipping bill, and his bitterest invectives and choicest epithets have been directed against the owners of the swift ships under the American flag in the transatlantic trade, while he has not hesitated to charge against his colleague, Senator Hanna, the basest motives for his support of the measure as presented for passage by the senate commerce committee.

A curious thing has come to light in this connection, however, which will have no effect upon Senator Pettigrew or his position upon the shipping bill, but it will have a widespread effect upon the public mind when the fact is known. It is this: Ten and a half years ago there was before the United States senate a shipping bill which provided compensation for swift steamships carrying the mails approximating in amount precisely the sum now provided in the pending bill and against which all of the pent up virulence and viciousness of the senator have been freely poured forth. Strangely enough, at that time, and with the same ability then as now to learn the real facts in the matter, Senator Pettigrew voted for the passage of that measure, with the result that it passed the senate.

Since that time a line of ships has come into existence and after several years of operation at a vast annual loss has demonstrated the wisdom of Senator Pettigrew's vote of ten and a half years ago by proving the insufficiency of the amount provided in the bill as it passed the house, the compensation in which was reduced in amount one-third from that for which Senator Pettigrew voted on July 12, 1890. But Senator Pettigrew has undergone a great change meanwhile, and the things he used to see through Republican eyes as justifiable he now sees through Populist eyes as unjustifiable. The conditions have not changed. They remain the same, and they happen to justify the wisdom of Senator Pettigrew's position upon public matters at a time, long past unfortunately, when he commanded the respect and esteem of his associates and of the country at large.

And so it comes to pass that Senator Pettigrew is performing the role of an obstructionist and the bitterest opponent of a measure because of a provision in it in 1901 that when in a similar measure in 1890 commanded his support and his vote. There is no explanation needed regarding the provisions of the measure in question beyond the one that the judgment of Senator Pettigrew, as shown by his vote in 1890, has been confirmed by the events that have succeeded it during the decade that has since elapsed. Probably there is nothing that Senator Pettigrew can carry with him into his enforced retirement from public life more vividly than the picture of himself as he was in 1890—right on most public matters—as compared with himself as he disappears from public view—not only wrong on almost all public matters, but displaying his perverted and distorted mind in a manner to call forth the execration of almost all of his colleagues upon each side of the senate chamber.

Possibly the shipping bill, a measure destined to give the United States that position upon the seas to which it is entitled and has long required, both for defensive and for economic reasons, required the opposition of Pettigrew in order to command the careful consideration of a majority of congress and in order that at this most opportune time it could be enacted into law. Be that as it may, Pettigrew's opposition has succeeded in solidifying the Republicans and a number of broad minded Democrats in favor of the bill, presaging a result most pleasing to all friends of the measure and most promising as to the future welfare and defensive strength of the nation.

CULLOM QUITS ILLINOIS.

Newly Elected Senator Starts for Post at Washington.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 24.—Senator Cullom left for Washington with Gov. Yates' signature attached to his certificate of election. Signing of that document, the fourth of the kind to be placed in the hands of the venerable lawmaker, followed the joint session of the general assembly, and constituted the last stage in the proceedings which have returned Senator Cullom to the seat he has held for three terms. No vote was taken at the joint session for the reason election was completed in separate session.

After the two houses compared votes committees of senators and representatives conveyed to Senator Cullom the news of his election. The senator was handy, so the committee found him without much search. He was escorted to the platform and addressed the joint assembly on party questions.

New United States Senators.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Returns from the state legislatures show the following elections of United States senators:

Illinois, S. M. Cullom, republican, re-elected; Kansas, J. R. Burton, republican, in place of Lucien Baker; West Virginia, S. B. Elkins, republican, re-elected; Arkansas, J. H. Berry, democrat, re-elected; North Carolina, F. M. Simmons, democrat, in place of Marion Butler; New Jersey, W. J. Sewell, republican, re-elected; Minnesota, Knute Nelson, republican, re-elected; Minnesota, Moses E. Clapp, republican, to succeed the late C. K. Davis; South Dakota, R. J. Gamble, republican, in place of R. F. Pettigrew; Texas, J. W. Bailey, democrat, in place of Horace Chilton.

Craft Given Up as Lost.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 24.—Of the vessels due at coast ports several are about given up as lost. The schooner Vine is out 108 days from Port Bragg for Mollendo and has not been spoken or sighted since she sailed. The schooner Falcon is sixty-four days out from Balinas Cruz for Port Townsend and small hope exists for her reaching her destination. The American ship Charmer is out forty-five days from Port Townsend for Kahului with coal and 15 per cent reinsurance is offered on her. The schooner Eam Baxter is fifty-three days out from Seattle for Honolulu. The American ship Cyrus Wakefield is making a long voyage from Naimo to Manila. She is out ninety-four days and nothing has been heard of her since she sailed.

Kitchener's Not for Ralder.

Cape Town, Jan. 24.—General Kitchener is disposing great forces semicircularly, his extreme left resting on the sea, to circumvent the Boers. The columns move simultaneously, in touch with each other. The greatest danger of the situation is the possibility of General De Wet's appearance in Cape Colony. It is believed that none of the Dutch would resist his personal call to arms. They think the fame of Napoleon and Wellington pales in comparison with his military genius. Among a number of captured letters is one from General Hertog to President Steyn, asking for 1,000 unmarried young men to enter Cape Colony and beat up recruits.

Jealous Man Shoots Three.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 24.—Claude Elder, 19 years of age, shot Mrs. Emma Douglas, a divorced woman, and Harry R. Haley and then killed himself in the Hotel Saxon, where the three lived. The woman was shot in the thigh, and probably will recover. Haley is wounded dangerously in the right lung. Jealousy was the cause of the shooting. Elder's brother, who had served in the army in the Philippines, killed himself about a year ago.

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

Is the most important period in a woman's existence. Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.

Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop for good, are symptoms of a dangerous, nervous trouble. Those hot flashes are just so many calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It builds up the weakened nervous system, and enables a woman to pass that grand change triumphantly.

"I was a very sick woman, caused by Change of Life. I suffered with hot flashes, and fainting spells. I was afraid to go on the street, my head and back troubled me so. I was entirely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JENNIE NOBLE, 5010 Keyser St., Germantown, Pa.

HOUSE TAKES UP NAVY BILL.

After Making District of Columbia Appropriation.

OUR NAVY REPORTED STRONG.

Senator Vest of Missouri Attacks the Subsidy Measure and Urges Free Ships—Says Our Navigation Laws Hinder the Merchant Marine.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—The house passed the District of Columbia appropriation bill and entered upon consideration of the naval appropriation bill. Mr. Foss (Ill.), chairman of the naval committee, explained its salient features. He said that our navy was larger than the German navy and was keeping a little ahead of it. Mr. Grosvenor (Ohio) said he considered this remark unfortunate and capable of misconstruction. We were friendly with Germany and there was no reason why that country should be singled out for the purpose of comparison. Mr. Foss disclaimed any idea that we were directing our energies toward keeping ahead of Germany. He had simply stated a fact. He believed in a strong and efficient navy, not so large as England's, but of moderate size; built on conservative lines and capable of upholding the honor of the country and the flag. The provision of the bill giving warrant officers the commutation of quarters allowed second lieutenants in the marine corps was stricken out on a point of order made by Mr. Cannon (Ill.), and the same fate befell an amendment by Mr. Fitzgerald (N. Y.) to increase the number of chaplains from twenty-four to thirty-four.

Vest Urges Free Ships.

Consideration of the shipping bill was resumed by the senate. Mr. Vest of Missouri, in a characteristically brilliant, forceful, and interesting speech lasting nearly three hours, advocated free ships and vigorously attacked the navigation laws of the United States, holding that they were responsible for the decadence of the merchant marine of America. He said that the pending measure came before the senate ostensibly from the committee on commerce, but had come really from a committee of promotion composed of twenty-five prominent and intelligent men appointed by the junior senator from Maine, Mr. Frye. "The chairman of this committee of promotion," said the Missouri senator, "is Clement A. Griscom, president of the International Navigation company, a man of high character, of great intelligence, and of indefatigable energy. The company which he represents is by far the largest beneficiary under this bill. Mr. Vest said that the vessels of what is known as the American line (the International Navigation company), in the course of the twenty-five years the subsidy was to run, would receive at least $42,000,000 of the total which would be paid out. The Pacific Mail Steamship company, he said, would be the next beneficiary under the bill. With its present ships and the two vessels it was building now it would receive $550,000 a year of the subsidy.

Standard Oil Company to Gain.

"The next poor, emaciated, starving corporation which will receive a subsidy under this bill," said Mr. Vest sarcastically, "is the Standard Oil company."

It was, he said, trembling with emaciation and hungry for the necessities of life, its shares of stock being worth only $30 each. He had endeavored to ascertain how much of the subsidy the Standard Oil company would receive, but the company had declined to supply any information as to its ships. Mr. Vest referred to the reported formation of syndicates to control the vessels on the great lakes and on the Pacific coast, and expressed the belief that a trust would be formed for the control of all this American shipping—a trust that would get every dollar of the subsidy.

WHIPPING POST IN INDIANA.

Bill Prepared to Be Introduced in the Legislature.

Indianapolis, Jan. 24.—A bill has been prepared for introduction in the legislature to establish a whipping-post in every county in the state and provides that every male person over 18 years of age who shall strike or beat a woman shall receive from fifteen to fifty lashes on his bare back. Profanity in the presence of females shall bring to the male offender of 14 years or more from five to twenty-five lashes. Petit larceny shall be punished by from five to fifty lashes. Tramps shall receive from ten to fifty lashes. The man who deserts his family and leaves it upon public charity from thirty to seventy-five lashes, and the public drunkard on his fourth offense from ten to twenty-five. The whip used shall be of rawhide and shall be wielded by the sheriff or his deputies.

Death from the Plague.

Hull, England, Jan. 24.—Another death from bubonic plague has occurred among the members of the crew of the British steamer Friary, which sailed from Alexandria Dec. 22, via Algiers, Dec. 31, for this port.

Start Room for Beveridge.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 24.—The Republican members of the Tennessee legislature in caucus adopted a resolution favoring Senator Beveridge of Indiana for presidential nominee in 1904.

Shipyard Strike Ended.

New York, Jan. 24.—The strike at Lewis Nixon's Elizabethport shipyard is ended. The men won.

Favors New Bankruptcy Law.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—At the session of the National Board of Trade a report from the committee on bankruptcy was adopted. It endorsed what is known as the amended Ray bill. A report from the committee on the merchant marine was read, and adopted. It recommended to congress the immediate consideration and passage of such necessary legislation as will tend to encourage and promote the growth and development of a merchant marine commensurate with the needs of the nation and as will give to all citizens equal opportunity for building ships and competing for the carrying trade of the world, and safeguarding to them the benefits which such legislation aims to secure.

NEW BRITISH QUEEN IS LOVED BY ALL*ALEXANDRA OF DENMARK, A WOMAN OF CHARACTER.

She Has Lived at Court for Many
Years, and Has Reached the Throne
Free From All Scandal—Works of Charity by Her Have Been Very Numerous.

Alexandra of Denmark, who now becomes Queen of England and Empress of India, is one of the most fascinating and popular women in the whole of her husband's vast dominions, which embrace one-quarter of the entire population of the known world. True, there are many women in English society who are infinitely more beautiful, whose figures conform far more closely to the ideal of the artist, and, above all, there are many who possess a greater degree of brilliancy of dash and of wit. Notwithstanding all this, wherever this gracious woman who has now become queen, appears, not only does she become the cynosure of all eyes, but more than that. The loveliness of every other woman seems to be pale, this too, in spite of the fact that she is the grandmother of six little ones, and nearer sixty years of age than fifty.

True she remains amazingly youthful in appearance, thanks, not so much to those vulgar devices known as "making up," as to those judicious cares that are entirely legitimate. For instance, daily massage has been employed to help nature in warding off wrinkles from the face, while the elasticity and elegance of the figure have been retained by means of exercise, moderation, and diet to the same phenomenal degree as in the case of the late Empress of Austria at the time of her assassination.

Fascinates by Gentleness.

The hair is dressed in precisely the same quiet and characteristic manner of twenty-five years ago, the head retains the same dainty poise of the neck so graceful that it conveys the impression of a slender stalk supporting a flower, while the eyes assuredly have, neither dimmed nor changed, flashing as in days of yore with fun or mischief or else sweetly appealing in that pathetic manner peculiar to people who are hard of hearing. But it is not this that makes the new Queen of England so fascinating—that renders her so much more attractive than people of immeasurably superior beauty. Nor can it be described as magnetism. For magnetism implies something that is violent and against which one would be inclined to resist. But it is the sweet, gracious, and kindly manner that converts every man who sets his eyes upon her into her sworn admirer, and that even disarms the jealousy of women, transforming them into her devoted friends.

Has Made No Mistakes.

And throughout that entire period she has not made one single mistake. She has known in her own friendly and calm manner the people whom it was desirable that she should know. She has steered clear of all those acquaintances who might have given rise to ill-natured comment. She has never lost her head, never been guilty of anything that could be construed as partaking of the nature of a "faux pas," and has by means of the atmosphere of ideal refinement, which she seems to diffuse around her, kept within bounds the tendency of modern society to exuberance and vulgarity, and, perfect in tact, has presented through her married life a picture of the most unruffled domestic happiness.

Finally, in an age where calumny is so rife and all-prevalent that not even an angel descended from heaven would be permitted to retain the celestial garments unsullied and the wings unruffled, no breath of scandal has ever tarnished even for a fleeting moment the fair name of England's new Queen.

Many Deeds of Charity.

Equally mistaken is the impression which prevails that she has taken no part whatever in public life. It was estimated the other day that through her personal influence and direct action she has, during the nearly four decades that have elapsed since she first came to England as the bride of the then Prince of Wales, been instrumental in securing the subscription and contribution of no less than $250,000,000 for charitable and philanthropic enterprises, this in itself being an achievement which conveys some idea of the usefulness of the royal woman's life and the benefit she has been to the land of her adoption.

Not merely columns, but volumes, could be written, of her innumerable acts of kindness, generosity, and of tender consideration of others. If anything could console the English people for the loss which they have sustained in the person of Victoria, it is the knowledge that their new queen is like her lamented mother-in-law, a woman of singular blameless life, of kindly disposition, a pattern of all domestic virtues, a woman whose heart goes out instinctively to all sorrow and suffering; in one word, a both lovely and lovable sovereign.

Little Lucia Dehison, who has been sick for the past ten weeks with scarlet fever, has fully recovered. The house was fumigated yesterday, the red card taken down, and the public will be safe to go in and out as usual. The fever was of a mild type.
